

We have chosen to use a poem to promote the message of ensuring to wear your seatbelt since poems can convey a sense of emotion. This poem has been thought out to be able show a possible example of the consequences of not wearing a seatbelt.

Tuesday

Sun is shining and I'm A-Okay!

Feeling super-duper happy today

On my way to the café, yay

But as we get in the car, I forget about my seaaaatbelttt!

I'm sure that if I hold on tight

No pain will be felt!

Now I'm in hospital

And I'm not okay

On my way to surgery

Two cuts across my head

If I had put on my seatbelt

No pain would have been felt.
